

Just prior to Christmas 2010, I decided to finally paint my kitchen and family room. For several weeks I planned and coordinated color schemes and furnishings as I prepared myself to paint. As I got closer to painting time, the more I recognized the fact that this project was far beyond my skill level and ability. The ceiling drywall was cracked and needed to be repaired, the walls were blistered and needed to be sanded, and the majority of the walls needed to be primed before painting – all resulting from a 2009 kitchen fire. After getting repairing/painting referrals from friends, I called each referral and was given estimates far out of my budget. I ran across Devin's business card and decided to give him a call. I left him a voicemail and he responded very quickly. He was polite and professional, and after explaining the situation to Devin, he assured me that he was able to handle and correct the problems. Furthermore, his estimate was substantially lower than the others and fit perfectly into my budget. I immediately hired Devin, and he and his crew showed up the first day with the expertise they needed to quickly transform my rooms from a "nightmare" to a "masterpiece" and everything looks fabulous! I am very pleased with the end result and it was a pleasure to work with Devin. I highly recommend him and his crew for repairing and painting needs, and I look forward to my next paint job because I certainly will hire him again.
